One possible version

Nowadays, more and more foreigners are becoming increasingly interested in Chinese traditional culture. The reasons why there exists this phenomenon can be listed as follows.

For one thing, China has a long history and evolves colorful, mysterious and unique cultures in its development, which makes it more attractive. For another, our country's economy has been developing at a good pace and more and more foreign people are coming to travel, work and even live here. During their stay, they are also exposed to and fascinated by our diverse traditional cultures.

In my view, it's our country's being stronger that has made the cultural aspect of our country more appealing and charming. And I think every one of us should take responsibility to spread our excellent traditional culture to the world. Only in this way can our country go further and be more stable on the way to realizing the Chinese Dream.
