Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen,

Welcome to this year's English speech competition. This annual event has been held in our school for years. It has played an important role in improving our English listening and speaking skills. The topic for this year's competition is "The English Novel I Like Best". It is aimed at helping us develop the habit of reading. As the organizer, I hope today's competition will become a platform for us to share our reading experience and to develop our interest in English language and culture.

In the competition, each speaker will have five minutes to give his or her speech. And the speaker is expected to keep to the topic and speak clearly, loudly and fluently with correct pronunciation.

Wish all the speakers a great success!

Thank you!

听力原文:

Text 1:

M: Can I get a ride to the office with you tomorrow?

W: Any other day would be fine. I've got to be downtown for a meeting first thing in the morning.

Text 2

W: There is a traditional lion dance performance tonight. Do you want to watch it?

M: Oh, good! I've been wanting to see one for a long time.

Text 3

M: Look! How beautiful they are! Do you want to join in with the people there?

W: Yes, I want to try it, too. Look at that butterfly. It looks really cool flying high in the sky!

M: Let's go over there and buy one.

Text 4

W: What's your plan for the summer holiday, Tim?

M: I'll be going back home to visit my family for a couple of weeks. What about you?

W: I want to travel to Sydney.

M: That's great. You can stay at my home.

Text 5

M: Are you getting a postcard for your sister? Here's a beautiful one of the lake.

W: But I only send cards of places I know. This one of the city at night looks good.

M: I agree, but your sister doesn't like cities!

W: Well, I'll get her the forest one. We went there two days ago, remember?

Text 6

W: Do you know what the weather is going to be like tomorrow?

M: I checked the weather report this morning. It says the weather tomorrow will be the same as today. I don't think the weather will change much for the next week or so.

W: That's great.

M: Why are you so happy? Do you have anything planned?

W: Yes. I am going to Sunny Island with some friends this weekend, so I was hoping for good weather.

M: Why wasn't I invited?

W: Don't feel bad. No boys have been invited. It'll be just us four girls.

M: Where will you stay?

W: Tina's parents have a cabin on the island.

Text 7

W: Hello! ABC Airline. May I help you?

M: Yes, my name is Brad Smith. I have a ticket to depart New York on June 15th. My plane leaves for Chicago at 3:15 pm. I would like to see if there is an earlier flight available.

W: OK. Let me check... Yes. We have seats available for the 13th. Would you like me to reserve one for you?

M: I don't want to leave on June 13th. I don't like that date. Do you have seats available earlier than that?

W: I'm sorry, but we do not have any available seats before June 13th. Should I put you on the waiting list?

M: Yes, please. Thank you.

W: You're quite welcome. I'll let you know as soon as possible if there are any seats that become available before June 13th.

Text 8

W: How was the party last Sunday night?

M: It was too crowded and the food was gone before I got there. There were just drinks left. I was hungry so I stayed there for only about half an hour.

W: Did the others have fun at the party?

M: I don't think so. Mary organized the party. She is the most boring girl I have ever known. So you can imagine how the party was.

W: It must have been very early when you got home.

M: Yes. I had planned to stay at the party till 11:30pm so that when I got back from the party, it would have been time for me to watch a football match, but I got back so early that I still had two hours before the football game began.

W: Did you stay up to watch the football game then?

M: Yes. It didn't begin until 11:58, so I didn't go to sleep until 2:00 am.

W: No wonder you don't look so good.

M: Yeah. Now I just want a bed.

Text 9

W: What a lovely cat! How long have you had it, Mr. Brown? There're several cats in our neighbourhood.

M: I found him when I was just thirty-five, so five years now.

W: What do you mean by saying you found him? You didn't buy him from a pet store?

M: No. I found him on the street. He was homeless and very dirty. I took him home and cleaned him up. I'm so lucky to have found him.

W: What do you mean?

M: Well, he saved my life just one year after I brought him home.

W: How did he save your life?

M: I've suffered from heart disease since I was a teenager, and it has put my life in danger at times. One night I suddenly fainted when I was taking a shower in the bathroom.

W: And you said your cat saved your life?

M: Yes, he went into the bedroom and woke up my wife. She immediately took action and saved my life.

W: So you saved the cat and in return it saved your life.

M: Yes. I guess kindness really pays off.

Text 10

A couple of months ago, I went to a department store to buy a few things for the house. I needed two sets of curtains for the living room, two table lamps, a carpet and several cushions. I asked them to deliver the things within a week, but they said they were unable to send them out until ten days later. After about three weeks, I received only the curtains and table lamps. I was a little disappointed when I didn't receive all the items I had bought. But nevertheless, I was eager to see what the curtains and lamps looked like. I first opened the package with the curtains. I had bought a lovely light blue and a light green, and instead they had sent me a horrible dark purple. Well, you can just imagine how angry I was. Then I opened the boxes with the lamps. They were exactly what I'd ordered. But one of the lamps was damaged. The next thing I did was to telephone them to complain. They promised to come and pick the items up immediately and also to replace them with the correct order. It has been two weeks since my complaint. They have neither picked up the wrong items nor sent me the rest of my order.
