第一节 (满分 15 分)

Possible answer:

Dear Mr. Smith,

I am writing to ask for your advice on a short English video that my classmates from the English Corner and I have made. The video is about an ancient village with a history of over 100 years in my hometown, and we plan to share it on social media to let more people know about it.

Since the video is in English, we would appreciate it if you could help check whether our expressions are natural and the overall presentation is clear and attractive to international viewers. Any advice on how to make the video more engaging would be very helpful to us.

Thank you very much for taking the time to guide us. Looking forward to your suggestions.

Yours,
Li Hua

第二节 书面表达 (满分 25 分)

Possible answer:

Just then, the motorcyclist came to my window, waving my purse. He stopped his motorcycle beside the passenger side and approached my window. A wave of relief washed over me as I realized he meant no harm. As I lowered the glass, we exchanged the wrongly taken purses through the opening. "My grandma asked me to bring this back to you," he explained. His voice was much softer than I had expected. "She took yours by mistake when you were helping her with the groceries."

Feeling grateful but ashamed, I offered some money to thank him. He shook his head gently and refused. His eyes were sincere and his smile was kind. Before I could say more, he rode away. So moved was I that I couldn't utter a single word. At that moment, I realized how wrong I had been to judge him by his appearance. That young man, who seemed unkind at first sight, taught me a valuable lesson: don't judge a book by its cover. It was an experience that I would never forget.
